Of the Six Winners Not One Received the Support of the Majority of the Backers.

OST men preferred to remain indoors yesterday, but the hope of winning g few dollars induced enough people to go to the Guttenburg races to make up an average attendance and to create fairly good business in the betting ring. In the

be difficult to imagine a meaner day than yesterday, and the managers of the track should have declared a postponement. It rained and hailed by turns throughout the afternoon, and the track Itself was covered with ice, mud and slush. Yet the races were run off as regularly as if it had been s clear, balmy, pleasant midsummer day. Not a single favorite proved successful, the bookmakers gathering in all the money in every race. STILL AFTER THE "BOOKIES."

en of the twenty-seven indictments presented he Grand Jury of Passaic county at Paterson, on Friday are said to be against the Clifton | terday sent the track bookmakers and managers. The indictments are said to be a piece of strategy on the part of the State. The Clifton people did not even know that their doings were being investigated, and no influence was prought to bear on the jurymen to prevent action.

ANOTHER DRAW AT CHESS. THE SEVENTRENTH GAME BETWEEN STRINITZ

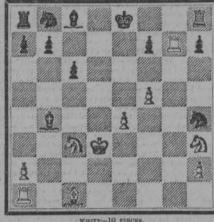

AND GUNSBERG REPLETE WITH FINE PLAY. HE seventeenth game in the championship chess match between Messrs-Steinitz and Gunsberg, played at the Manhattan Chess Club rooms yester day, was a splendid struggle, which ended in a draw. Mr. Steinitz once more returned to his first choice, the Queen's gambit, and Gunsberg again intro-

Gunsberg again introduced a novelty in his defence. Although queens were exchanged early the game abounded in complications. The excitement was at fever heat when the London player declined to win two pawns on the eighteenth move. But he was right, for, as shown in the analysis of the game, Mr. Steinitz would have emerged with a vehement, if not winning attack.

The game seemed now to be Steinitz's, but at the time of the recesse Gunsberg's chances looked brighter. After the adjournment Steinitz made things still livelier, but although he was a pawn ahead he could not win, as B's of different colors remained on the board. The score now stands:—Steinitz, 5; Gunsberg, 4; drawn, 8. Yesterday's game is as follows:—

The League and Association Make Some Important Changes Regarding Players and Receipts.

MAKING UP THE NEW TEAMS.

Managers Have Their Eyes on the Big Stars and Will Begin to Land Them at Once.

Everybody seemed unusually happy over the fact that the suicidal war of last year was at an end, but the Association men were particularly jubilant at having at last brought the powerful old League to terms. Under the new national agreement the League takes back all the players that were under contract to it when the Brotherhood revolt began, and the American Association has exactly the same

The new Boston American Association team will be managed by Arthur Irwin, and will be allowed to retain Harry Stovey, Morgan, Murphy and Swett as a nucleus of this year's team. The Association will see that Boston has a strong team. Nash, Quinn, Richardson and Kelly will be retained by the Triumvirs, while the other players will be distributed among the League clubs.

The Athletics, of Philadelphia, will be managed probably by Pat Powers, of last season's Rochester team, and will retain Bierbauer for second base, come what may. J. Earle Wagner says Bierbauer will play with his team or nowhere. Griffin and shindle will go back to the Baltimore club. The Philadelphia club will get Fogarty, Sanders and Buffinton back again.

The new Washington club will be managed by Sam Trott and will contain some fine players, Carney, Stricker, Donnelly, Ed Crane, O'Day, Mack, Clark and others are wanted by the management. The Chicago Association club will be owned probably by Chris Von der Abe and Henry Von der Horst. Tom Loftus is regarded as a probable manager of the team. Thurman and Prince have been delegated to adjust the Chicago matter to suit themselves.

ROGENS RECOVED TO THE NATIONAL BOARD.

The National League went into session at their-past elven yesterday morning. The first thing done was the tabling of Johnson's letter of warning regarding the Leaguerscognizing no delegate but himself from the Cincinnatic lub. The Cincinnati matter is now in the hands of John T. Huush, and if Johnson wants the League franchise for that city he must make his torms with the shrewd indinapolis magnate. There is little doubt, however, that Johnson will get the franchise in part.

doubt, however, that Johnson will get the franchise in park.

The next business of the League was the election of a member to the National Board. On the first bailet A. G. Spaiding was chosen unanimously, but refused the position. Then two candidates located up in the persons of C. H. Byrne, of Brocklyn, and John I. Rogers, of Philadelphia. A tisvote necessitated drawing lots, and Colonie Rogers was the lucky man. It was unfortunate, however, that this big metropolitan district could not have had the efficial representation on title Board in the angle of the property of the continuation of Pittsburg, Philadelphia, New York and Boston did the bueness. After this the following resolution was passed;—"Resolved, That on or before February 9, 1891, each club in the National League shall send to the chairman of the National Board a list of players then under centact with erreservation by it, whom it may wish to continue in its service. All players not included in this liet shall be placed in the hands of the National Board, which shall have full power to make such disposition of unclaimed players as may seem to it fair and equitable to shall have full power to make such disposition of un-claimed players as may seem to it fair and equitable to all interests."

The schary question was discussed at length, and it was the unanimous opinion that the high figures of the past must be clipped a great deal for the benefit of the clubs. After accomplishing a number of minor details the League adjourned, schipect to a call from the president.

POOLING RECRIPTS ON BIG HOLDAYS.

Battmore. The directors will be from the clubs in Louiserille, Baitmore, Washington and Columbus. The Finance Committee consists of Boston, St. Louis and Haltimore. Allen W. Thurman was elected to the National Board. It was agreed to pool the receipts on Decoration Day, July 4 and Labor Day, and to divide them equally among the eight clubs. This will do away with the howling about the "plums" that goes up every year. Horeafter at all other games there will be a fifty percent division of the gate receipts. This is intended to help the weaker clubs on their trips away from home. The National Board was vested sith power to appoint the Association umpires. The supplementary championship leason resolution was adopted. The meeting then adjourned subject to the call of the Chair.

COMPANY F WINS BY A HAIR, AN EXCITING GAME OF RASERALL AT THE SEVENTH BEGIMENT ARMORY.

Two thousand enthusiastic spectators shouted themselves hoarse last night as the baseball nines of companies F and C struggled through nine exciting innings at the Seventh Regiment Armory. The game had been awaited with interest for weeks and when the teams trotted upon the floor at eight o'clock last night their backers and sympathizers gave them a royal welcome.

Company F won by the close score of 5 to 3, but Company C deserves the highest praise. The game was by far the best ever played at the armory The pitching was phenomenally good, W. J. Curry striking out twenty-two men and Kerwin sixteen.

A great deal of fault was found with Umpire Golden by some spectators back of first base, who, however, were not in a position to see the various plays as well as Golden. The latter, however, made a mistake in talking to the crowd in defence of himself. Both teams indulged in kicking, and once Manager Wilson, of Company F, got so excited as to rush into the arena and protest against what he thought was a wrong decision. The score:—

A NEW LEAGUE OF TEN CLUBS. [BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD.]

BURLINGTON, Iowa, Jan. 17, 1831.-Prominent members of the interstate Baseball League, representing cities in Iowa, Illinois and Indiana, met here to-day and formed a ten club league, to consist of Cedar Rapids, Des Moines and Ottumwa, Iowa; Joliet, Rockford, Peoria, Spring-field and Quincy, 111., and Terre Haute and Evansville,

TITAN ATHLETES ENTERTAIN.

The first annual athletic entertainment of the Titan Athletic Club, held at the club house, No-414 West Forty-fifth street, last night, was very successful from a financial standpoint.

The event of the evening was a four round "go" for a gold watch between Mike Mulroy, of the Na. tionals, and Vincent Sheridan, of the Titans. At the call of time both men sprang to the centre of the ring. Mulroy immediately led with his left and landed on Sheridan's nose, causing blood to flow freely. He followed this up with two effective right hand swings on his opponent's neck and in return received a hot one in the wind. In the second round Sheridan got in several good blows on the National man's face and neck, but received some hot rib roasters in return. From this point to the end Mulroy forced the fighting, landing three blows to his opponent's one. The judges agreed on Mulroy as the winner. Jimmy Lynch, the champion 129 pound pugilist, and his brother Tom made an interesting set-to, B. McNichol, of the Titans, and "Kid" Jackson, of the West Sides, had a rattling bout. The boys fought as hard as if their lives were at stake and exchanged many hard blows. In the last round Jackson knocked his man down and almost out by a terrific right hand swing on the neck. ### OARSMEN MEET IN COUNCIL.

The Executive Committee of the National Association of Amateur Carsmon met at the Grand Union Hotel last night. A committee was appointed to confer with Amateur Athletic the Union and League of American Wheelmen over the question of paying athletes' expenses. The appli-cation of Edward McGerhan, of Philadelphia, for eation of Edward McGerhan, of Philadelphia, for reinstatement was rejected. The treasurer's report showed that there was $350.70 in the treasury. The question that caused much discussion was the proposed shortening of the championship course. Harry McMillan favored a straightaway course of a mile and a half. A long discussion followed. It was finally decided to let the course remain one mile and a half. It was decided to discussify James F. Corbett, of Chicago, who was accused of selling the senior single race at the championship regatta last year.

THE FLAGSHIP DID NOT SAIL.

TAIN THE CHICAGO SEVEBAL DAYS. The Chicago was all ready to sail for Hampton Roads at nine o'clock yesterday morning. getting up steam, however, a serious defect was discovered in the main steam pipe, and it will be necessary to take a section out and send it to the shop for repairs. This will delay the ship until Wednesday at least. The men who were sent on board as passengers for the Kearsarge and Atlanta have returned to the Vermont.

The Philadelphia was to have sailed, but the northeast gale and thick weather will detain her also for a day or two.

The Vesuvius is moored alongside the Terror, and the necessary repairs to her outwater will soon be completed. Thirty steel 16-inch sub-calibre shells are being made for her guns by Cramp & Sons and will soon be provided. It has been proposed to take the ship to Pensacola and subject her guns to tests for range and acouracy. The projectiles may be fired at a target on a sandy beach where they can be recovered and used over and over again. Buoys will be planted at different known distances off shore, and the ship, steaming along toward the target, will fire a shot opposite each buoy, thus testing the accuracy with which the shells may be planted by a ship approaching an enemy under way. The efficiency of the Fiske range finder may be practically determined by such an experiment. The Vesuvius is moored alongside the Terror, and

FOR FLOWER SURGICAL HOSPITAL.

The Women's Guild, of which Mrs. Henry Thompson is president, is making an effort to raise funds in aid of an excellent and useful charity-the Flower Surgical Hospital at the Eastern Boulevard and Sixty-third street.

Roswell P. Flower gave $36,000 to build the hospital and the women of the guild raised $17,000 to furnish it. It is absolutely free to all, without regard to creed or color, and as few people can afford skiiful surgical aid, it does great good in relieving suffering. In eleven months 270 operations, many of a difficult character, have been performed at the

The Women's Guild will give a pleasant and attractive entertainment on the evening of Saturday, January 24, at the Berkoley Lyceum under the musical direction of Mrs. Henry Thompson, the proceeds of which will go to the treasury of the hospital. Mrs. W. A. Pullman, Mrs. David Bonner, Mrs. Thompson, Miss Shipman and others, with a chorus of twenty-six young ladies and a number of Professor Marwig's pupils, will take part in the performance. Tickets can be purchased of Mrs. Henry Thompson at No. 40 West Fifty-nint street. The charity is an excellent one and the attendance will doubtless be large.

STRONG, ABLE, AGGRESSIVE,

Never print a paid advertisement as news matter. Let every advertisement appear as an advertisement—no sailting under faine colors.—Charles A. Duna's Address the Precessin Editorial Association. Milacuker, July 24, 1888. "As a republican I would naturally prefer to see New York represented in the Senate by a republican than by a democrat," said John H. Starin when can than by a democrat," said John H. Starin when I asked him for his views on the senatorship question. "But I know of no democrat who is more to my liking than Charles A. Dana. The successor to Senator Evarus ought to be a strong man, an able man and an aggressive man, and Mr. Dana is all that and much else. No man can say that he is too small for the place. But I should not be at all surprised to hear that he would rather stick to the Swa than go to the Senate. However much of a hit he might make in the Senate, he couldn't exercise such far reaching influence from the Senate Chamber as he can from the editorial sanctum."

MRS. FAYERWEATHER'S CONTEST.

Company" and No Froperty Found.

Somewhat Late the Holland Trust Company Finds Its Name Used and Vigorously Repudiates the Enterprise.

What looks like another tricky investment scheme came to light yesterday.

The Plattdeutsche Post and various other journals printed in this city in German and other foreign tongues have for several weeks past contained a flaming advertisement calculated to draw the dollars of guileless people into what is promised to be a big financial scheme.

The advertisement was that of "The C. S. Phillips Patent Process Tobacco Growing and Curing Company," which owned 14,000 acres of land at Fitzhugh, Polk county, Fla. The "ad" jeets forth in glowing terms that enormous profits could be made by the concern, which was capitalized at $1,500,000, with 150,000 shares at $10 each; that Charles S. Phillips was president, W. H. Cutler first vice president, H. H. Miller treasurer and that the office of the company was at No. 188 Pearl street. New York. The name of the "Holland Trust Company, of No. 7 Wall street, New York," was sandwiched in as large letters across the page in such a way as to convey the impression that the trust company was the agent for the tobacco company.

Appended to the advertisement was what purported to be a certificate signed by "J. D. Hashahen, General Eastern Agent," certifying to the fact that the C. S. Phillips (&c.) Company had purchased from him, as the agent of the Southern Florida Railroad Company and the Plant Investment Company, of Florida, 13,588.71 acres of land, near Fit. hugh, Polk county, Florida, and that they were the same lands now planted with tobacco.

Attached to the advertisement was a subscription blank for the stock of the company, which the public were invited to purchase at $10 a share This blank also contained the name of the Holland Trust Company in very conspicuous characters, conveying the idea that the trust company was responsible for the scheme without exactly saying so. This advertisement first appeared in the weekly newspapers printed in the foreign languages several months ago, and more recently in a Wall street daily journal. But in all cases the "ad" was in The publisher of the foreign papers is Isaac Gold-

The publisher of the foreign papers is Isaac Goldman, of Nos. 9 and 11 New Chambers street. After several weeks of persistent dunning, being unable to get any money from Charles S. Fhillips, or his company, in payment for the "ad." he brought suit for his bill in the City Court, through his attorney, Julius Lehmann, of No. 23? Broadway.

The publisher obtained a judgmant for the amount of his bill for advertising ($206) and secured an attachment on such property of the to-bacco company as could be found in this city. But Deputy Sheriff Ferguson was obliged to return the judgment unsatisfied, being unable to find anything to levy upon except the meagreoffice furniture at No. 188 Fearl street.

WHAT THE LAWYER FINDS.

The publisher's lawyer, as the next best thing, has now obtained from the Court an order of sequestration empowering him to seize the office furniture and to have a receiver appointed.

Lawyer Lehmann falled to discover that the company, which was organized and incorporated under the New York laws early in 1889, had even filed any report, as required by law.

He also proved, very speedily, that the Holland Trust Company's officials washed their hands of the scheme and refused to be in any way connected with it. The trust company, the officers told him, had consented to act as registrar and financial agent of the company on condition that it turned out to be all right, but on the 15th inst. the trust company sent the following unmistakably emphatic letter to Mr. Phillips, the president of the tobacco company:—

HOLLAND THUST COMPANY,
NO. 7 WALL STREET,
NEW YORK, Jan. 15, 1891. 5
G. S. PHILLIPS, Patent Tobacco and Growing Co:—
GENTLEMEN.—We find that you have no land in Florida and no capital paid in, except as you may call stock delivered for parents, and that the business standing of the whole affair and we hat it was represented to us; and we, therefore, decline to go on with your proposed company. therefore, decline to go on wish your proposed company and we decline to act as register for the stock, and therefore, we request you to withdraw our names from all advertisements and pamphlots, &c. Very respect fully yours, GEO. W. VAN SICLEN, Secretary.

therefore, we request you to withdraw our names from all advertisements and pamphlets. &c. Very respectfully yours. GEO. W. VAN SICLEN. Secretary.

At the office of the trust company yesterday, Secretary Van Sielen admitted that the trust company had consented to act as the financial representative, register, &c., of the tobacco company in November last, but he claimed that it was only on the understanding that the tobacco company was to make good its claims.

**PETTER LATE THAN NEVER.**

"Did they ever do so?" I asked.

"No," the secretary replied, "we heard nothing from them for some time. But we didn't do anything much in the matter, because we never received any money on account of the company except a few small amounts."

"Why did you continue to act for the company and permit them to use your name in the advertisements, unless you were satisfied that the company was not a swindle?"

In response to this Mr. Van Sielen claimed that the trust company did not know that its name was being used until recently, and that as soon as they were made aware of it they made inquiries as to the tobacco company and wrote the letter given above, to which they had received no response.

Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railway, would like to know where his pretty daughter Nollie is abiding. The young people have undoubtedly been married, for that is what they ran away for.

Young Henson and Miss Broughton, who have been engaged for some time and to whose marriago there was no opposition whatever, left the house of Mr. Broughton last night to attend a euchre party. They did not return. Early this morning the Henson and Broughton household; received despatches dated at Figin, Ill. saying that the young people proposed to get married as soon as they reached their destination. It is thought, however, they were married at Elgin and are now on their wedding tour.

The only reason advanced for their hurried wedding is that Miss Nellie didn't want to wait until the year's mourning for her deceased brother was up. Young Henson is in business for himself.

DISAPPEARED AFTER THE PLAY.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD. PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 17, 1891.-Miss Minnie Thompson, daughter of J. W. Thompson, of the East End, who formerly resided in Orange, N. J., and Charles Bothwell, of Rochester, N. Y., bave and Charles Bothwell, of Rochester, N. Y., bave been missing since the night of January 3, when they left the young lady's home to attend the performance at the Pittsburg Opera House. Mr. Bothwell is a student, and was preparing to go to Yale College. It is thought the couple has eloped.

The young man in the case has been living in Pittsburg for some months and was a frequent caller at the Thompson home. He was well liked by the girl's parants, who placed no obstacles in the way of the couple's meetings.

After the play the couple took supper at a hotel, and the last seen of them was when they were entering a cab. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson do notknow what to make of the case, as young Bothwell was always a welcomed visitor at their house.

A HANDSOME WOMAN'S SUICIDE.

TO A GALVESTON MAN.

"Mrs. Hudson" was found dead last evening, having committed suicide by taking morphine. An affectionate letter, addressed to C. B. Nichola, Galveston, Texas, was found on the table unfinished. In it she asked forgiveness, saying the temptation was too great for her. A morphine proscription made out for Mrs. Lottle Thurman and the name Lottle on her jewelry gave rise to the belief that Thurman was her real name.

Miss Hudson came here from Ransas City yesterday. This morning the following telegram was received from her brother:—

"Kansas City, Jan. 17, 1891.

"To the Coroner, St. Louis:—

"Will be in St. Louis to-night for remains of my sister, Lottle Hudson.

A despatch from Galveston says that George B. Nichols, to whom Miss Hudson addressed a letter, is a ticket agent there for the International and Great Northern Railway. He is the son of the late General E. B. Nichois, one of the builders of what is known as the Sunset division of the Southern Pacific road.

Sensational developments are expected.

thousand people here last night. He was enthusi-astically received. When he declared for freedom between nations and spoke of barriers in the shape of customs laws, restrictions and other iniquities, thwarting God's purposes, he was loudly cheered. It was a remarkable demonstration in favorofree-iprocity. Father Huntington exclaimed, "I like that. It was that same sturdy, manly demand for justice that swept over the United States last No-vember, when the people-there cried out against perpetuating rancour and selfishness between nations."
